

THINGS TO DO IN LIVORNO

Livorno, the Tuscany's third largest city, is a busy commercial and passenger port, handling ferries and cruise ships almost all year round. The city itself is divided up by a series of wide canals, giving it an atmosphere that is unique in Tuscany. It has a great indoor food market and some excellent fish restaurants and, despite extensive war damage, still retains many fascinating points of interest which together recount the town's four-hundred years of history, such as Terrazza Mascagni, the old Fortress (Fortezza vecchia), the Monument of the four Moors and the sanctuary of Montenero.
